Bodegas Toro Albalá

Toro Albalá is considered one of the most emblematic Spanish wineries. Its roots go back to 1844 when the great grandfather of the actual owner founded one prestigious family estate. In 1922 José Maria Toro Albalá moved the facilities to the current location in Aguilar's old power station, where we started introducing updated technologies and establishing our brand "Eléctrico".

Possible the first "PX Seco-Fino". Unusual!

Its motto is "quality as the first and only rule" and the several awards received, confirm this philosophy and established it as a quality leader.
